

STEPHANIE A. ROCKWELL is a partner at Speed, Seta, Martin, Trivett and Stubley, LLC.

Her practice is concentrated in Workers' Compensation and Insurance Defense law. She represents all types of employers, insurers, and TPAs in both Georgia and Tennessee. She received her undergraduate degree in Legal Studies, Management, and International Business from Indiana University. She went on to obtain her law degree from Georgia State University. Stephanie is a regular speaker on the subjects of workers' compensation and risk reduction to employers and insurers alike across both Georgia and Tennessee. She is a member of Workers' Compensation section of the State Bars of both Georgia and Tennessee.

Stephanie volunteers for the Special Olympics, as it is close to her heart. She has three children who keep life interesting.